Janie was born and raised in the South Bay and currently resides in San José. Bouncing back from leaving high school at the age of 16, Janie attended De Anza College before transferring to San Francisco State University, where she earned a bachelor's degree in Creative Writing. After acquiring a teaching credential at San Diego State University and working as a teacher for 5 years, Janie discovered a passion for administration and earned heWhilshetuntiadmivocacyo Spshe agltraf 16r Massion f

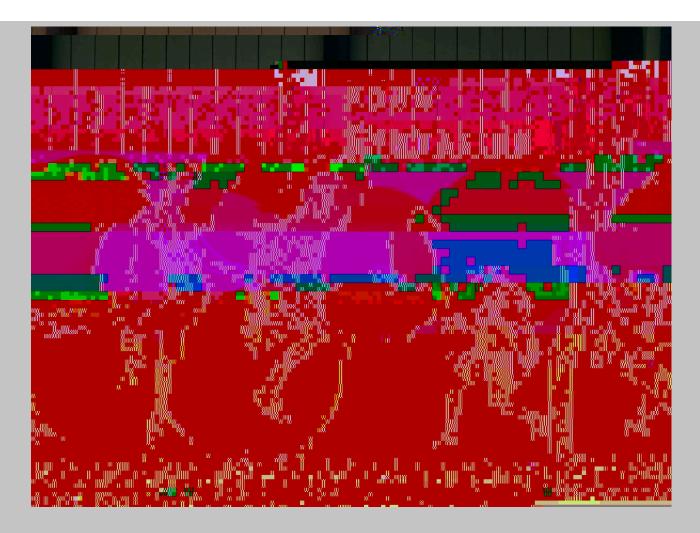

Four Foothill students are currently in Guatemala on a service leadership trip. Through the Foothill-De Anza Foundation, the group was awarded scholarships to teach English at a small secondary school run by Dream Volunteers, a local nonprofit dedicated to creating leaders across the globe. The students are also taking online courses here. Economics instructor has led groups to Guatemala for the last two years. The students are:

- Chantille Williams
- Brianna Mendez
- Raia Coney
- Francisco Montanez

Join the Foothill Commission for their Exclusive Winter Benefit featuring The Mystery of Edwin Drood on Saturday, March 7, at 2 p.m, including a wine and appetizers reception. This musical, based on the unfinished Charles Dickens novel, was the first Broadway show with multiple endings determined by audience vote. This is going to be an adventure!

We hope you can join us for this fun, immersive afternoon of musical theatre. All proceeds benefit the Theatre-Arts-program.

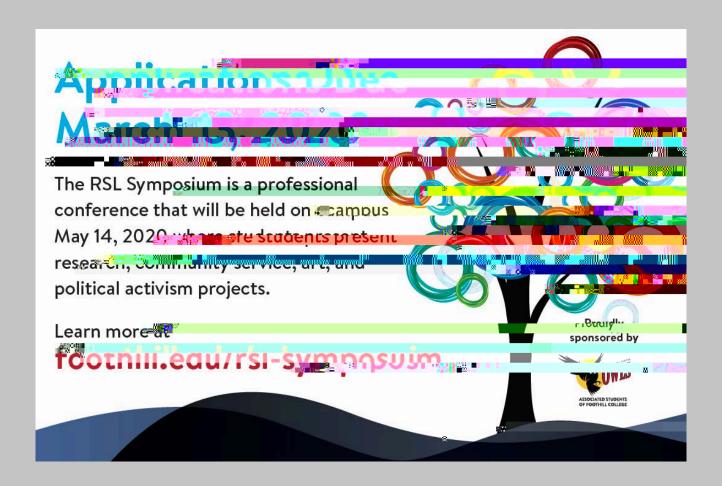

Are you planning to attend NCORE in NYC in May? If so, please reach out to Dean Melissa Cervantes and let her know. Groups discounts are available!

The Equity Team is excited to release the first draft of the Equity Strategic Plan. This is the first draft of a working document -- not a finished plan. As the campus community works to continue developing the plan, the goal is to ensure everyone knows about the many opportunities for collaboration and engagement in the coming months. The team will be sending all-campus emails and posting on the Equity Team web page.
