

the 1990s, the number of people in the UK who are aged 65 and over has increased from 10.5 million to 13.5 million (19.5% of the population).

There is a growing awareness of the need to address the needs of older people, and the Government has set out a strategy for the 21st century in the White Paper on Ageing Better: The Government's Strategy for Older People (Department of Health 1999). This strategy is based on the following principles:

• Older people should be able to live independently, safely and comfortably in their own homes.

• Older people should be able to live in the communities in which they were brought up.

• Older people should be able to live in the communities in which they were brought up.
